

SERVICE BRIEF

EMR: Electronic Medical Records

Streamline processes within your healthcare facility with digital medical records to improve collaboration and secure access to patient medical information.

What is EMR/EHR?

Healthcare practices of all sizes can benefit from Electronic Medical/Health Records, which is a system for storing, organizing, and maintaining patient records.

As for any business, solid practices, organization, and easy-to-use technology can benefit doctor offices, hospitals, and other healthcare facilities. The digital format greatly simplifies the management of patient records by providing a central point of access to each record and giving you the information you need quickly. Collaborating between multiple departments and offices and even other healthcare institutions is much easier and faster, improving response times and patient satisfaction.

Solutions Made for Doctors

Our custom-tailored EMR package is built specifically for busy doctors who would benefit from the organization and flexibility of a digital system without a long learning curve.

Converting your practice to utilize electronic medical records is a big step forward, but you can't afford to let it get in your way when it comes to your day-to-day operations. Quest Digital makes the transition as smooth as possible and can help facilitate the training and support needed to get your practice up and running with comprehensive workflows. Quest Digital is here to guide your practice through the process of converting, utilizing, and leveraging modern technology to ensure you are providing the best services to your patients as possible.

Save Time and Money

Stop tracking down or consolidating records or waiting for changes made to medical information, and greatly reduce the overhead that comes with paper records.

With an EMR, any changes in medical records can be seen immediately no matter who will be looking at them. This is especially beneficial when a patient is seen by multiple practitioners in the same afternoon.

Our EMR solution eliminates the costs for transcriptions, and reports can be compiled with the press of a button.

Of course, don't forget about government incentives for healthcare practices, which will provide even more value beyond the benefits of simply streamlining the way your office or hospital conducts day-to-day business.
